

How do I integrate with my existing ALM solutions?

Companies today are migrating from legacy CRM technologies, such as ClearQuest or Jira, to Rational Team Concert (RTC). In order to successfully migrate to RTC and minimize the impact on existing processes and end users, companies require:

- Translation of years of investment in the legacy technology into RTC
- Integrate 3rd party Application Lifecycle Management (ALM) tools into RTC
- Feature parity

Fusion Overview

SCM Solution has developed Fusion to address this issue; which provides integration of RTC to any 3rd party ALM product. Data now can be derived from external data sources into a RTC work item. With Fusion you can translate the full investment made in ClearQuest, Jira or other CRM technologies into RTC. Fusion delivers “database aware” capability and controls, which remove adoption inhibitors with complex legacy environments. Fusion provides an “out of the box” integration of RTC to:

- Any 3rd party product through a JDBC connection
- Web services
- Internet protocols

Fusion allows RTC to bundle the context of a workflow and the 3rd party data into a single form. Fusion is delivered as an Eclipse plugin (for developers) as well as Jazz plugin (for web access).

Technology Description

Fusion is a suite of custom attribute parts developed for use with IBM Rational Team Concert v3.0. It is designed to permit work items to contain custom attributes that fulfill a variety of use cases that are otherwise not available within RTC.

These include:

- Controls that are populated with values obtained from a database (combo, label, table, and a control that provides side-by-side scrolling lists, for selecting multiple values derived from a query)
- A control that creates an email with the default email client, populated with current values from a work item
- A control that provides side-by-side scrolling lists, for selecting multiple values derived from an enumeration
- A browser-style control that shows HTML text derived from a URL
- A control that shows an image derived from a URL
